Rent Controls Extension Runs Into Opposition

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich.) of the House Banking Committee said today he opposes an Eisenhower administration plan to extend general rent controls to Oct. 1.

Wolcott, in an interview, said federal ceilings on some 4,300,000 housing units in noncritical areas in 32 states can be lifted earlier than Oct. 1—just how much earlier he wasn't sure.

The controls are scheduled to die April 30, unless extended. Acting Defense Mobilizer Arthur S. Fleming, speaking for the administration, urged an extension to Oct. 1 in a hearing before the Senate Banking Committee only yesterday.

No Agreement

A second administration witness, Deputy Secretary of Defense Roger M. Keyes, was called before the Senate group today to give further details of what the executive branch wants in the way of continued economic controls.

There were signs of strong opposition in the Senate and House to the proposal for a five-month extension of general rent curbs.

An other signals mixup between the White House and Congress appeared to have developed.

Wolcott said there has been no agreement between President Eisenhower and congressional leaders on the issue. After a White House conference Monday, House Speaker Joseph Martin (Mass.) told newsmen an agreement on the Oct. 1 extension had been reached.

Wolcott, who attended the White House meeting, said this was a "misunderstanding." He added that the Oct. 1 date had been mentioned prominently but the

Children's Camp School For Reds

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A sinister picture of an innocent-appearing children's camp in the mountains, turned into a secret Communist party school for revolutionaries, is before the House Un-American Activities Committee today.

The school was held the week end of Dec. 5-7, 1952, at Camp Tenaya, Crestline, Calif., a resort town in the San Bernardino Mountains 15 miles from San Bernardino.

It was "not an ordinary school but rather one of great importance—only for Communist party functionaries and was held under the direction of high Communist party officials."

"It is of particular concern that this school was one of a series of new schools to be held by the Communist party for the purpose of issuing directives to infiltrate shops, key industries, and in particular, defense establishments.

"It is alleged that this school was concluded with an announcement that a dictatorship of the proletariat would take place immediately after a revolution to secure power and that it would be necessary for the party comrades to safeguard against the resurgence of capitalism. The announcement also pointed out that it had taken the Soviet Union 27 years to accomplish this purpose."

Let Duke Of Windsor Return To England, Daily Express Urges

LONDON (AP) — As Britain prepared to bury its beloved Queen Mary, Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express said today the death of the royal matriarch is a cue for her eldest son, the Duke of Windsor, to return to England to live.

"Let the mourning end his exile," declared the heading over an Express editorial. The newspaper did not mention the duke's American-born duchess, the former Wallis Warfield Simpson, but presumably it favors her returning with her husband.

Funeral Cut Short

Windsor is now in England, having cut short a Florida vacation to rush to his mother's bedside when her fatal illness was first announced. The duchess remained in New York. She has never been received at the British royal court since the duke gave up the throne 16 years ago to marry her. Most observers consider Queen Mary—a stickler for convention—at the bottom of the boycott.

A-Bomb Is Felt At Close Range

CAMP DESERT ROCK, Nev. (AP)

—Remember the awful, all-gone feeling you had just before you made your first speech as a kid in school?

Well, take it from an Army officer, that's worse than waiting in a trench for an atomic device to explode 2,500 yards away.

Capt. Robert R. Collier, 29, Battle Creek, Mich., one of nine volunteer officers who were that close to Tuesday's detonation, also said: "I had no fear of going in. If I had felt ragged about it, I wouldn't have gone in. But I knew what to expect and wasn't afraid to face it."

When the flash came, he said yesterday, "we had planned to have our eyes closed, but were caught with them open and looking down into the trench. I found that there was dilatory after effects from the light. We stumbled but did not fall down completely."

"First we got the light in the trench. Then a loud noise and appreciable ground shock. This ground shock was nothing like the effects of the shock you get when you're in an automobile accident. I stumbled but did not fall down completely."

"It took me about eight seconds after the flash and blast to get squared around. I checked my radiological instruments and found everything under control, but noted it was time for us to start getting out of the trench. We started trudging out."

"I haven't felt any ill effects from the experience and don't expect to."

Teachers Get Raise

IONIA (AP)—The Ionia Board of Education yesterday granted pay increases averaging $200 a year to city school teachers. Also approved was a $2,500 annual raise for School Superintendent Arthur A. Rather.

Battered American Troops Abandon Old Baldy In Korea

Thousands Risk Lives To Flee From Red Rule

By DON DOANE

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—They flee from the terrorized East in many ways.

Some pirate airplanes for their escape. Others have seized locomotives. An excursion boat captain ran his river ship past shooting guards to a haven for his family in the West. Most simply sneak by night across borders where Communist police have orders to shoot to kill.

All risk their lives, leaving homes, property and jobs behind. They arrive in the West by the thousands—free, but penniless. In an area already overcrowded with refugees, they face a bleak future. This is where the United States steps in.

The U. S. has a project to help these fugitives get on their feet as free men. It's called the "escapee program," it began last summer with a $4,300,000 appropriation for its first fiscal year.

So far, it has helped early 12,000 fugitives: 4,500 Czechs, 3,000 Hungarians, 1,300 Poles, 600 Albanians, 300 Balts, 12 Bulgarians, 60 Romanians and 500 Russians.

It has enabled 3,400 of them to emigrate to the U. S., Canada, South America and Australia. For the others, it has provided food, clothing and medical aid. Some courses in languages or trades to help them qualify for emigration.

This program has convinced thousands—who were beginning to doubt—that their risk was worthwhile, that the free West really offers them a better chance in life.

"The significance of this program," says its director, Richard Liles in the rebuilding of hope among the refugees. They become aware that they are not neglected by the free world. They no longer need to remain without prospects in overcrowded camps.

"Equally important, ways and means are provided to give practical and constructive expression to the good will and hospitality which the free world desires to extend to those whose faith in democratic ideals has induced them to flee from the Iron Curtain countries."

The law creating this program was introduced in 1951 by Rep. Charles J. Kersten, (R-Wis.), who regarded it as a defense measure as well as humanitarian.

Naturally, the Communists don't like this program. They have complained in the United Nations but there appear no signs that the program will be abandoned. In fact,

More Military Aid Promised French In Indochina Struggle

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower begins cold war strategy talks with top French leaders today amid reports the U. S. is ready to transfer available funds to rush military aid to Indochina.

Plans for such stepped-up military shipments were reported taking shape behind the scenes as the President arranged to meet French Premier Rene Mayer aboard the yacht Williamsburg.

The visiting French leader, assisted by a 35-man delegation which includes three Cabinet officers, was expected to outline Indochina war plans for the next year at the opening talks.

These plans, already made known to key American agencies, call for mobilization of 57 new commando battalions of Indochinese. However, bigger and better military cargoes must be sent from the U. S. to make this possible.

American officials, who sometimes have criticized French operations in Indochina, said they are enthusiastic about the new French plans. They said the Eisenhower administration is ready to back them although this would mean diverting foreign aid funds from other areas.

The President has the right to do this under legislation approved by Congress last summer when it appropriated about six billion dollars for foreign military, economic and technical assistance. Up to 10 per cent of the money set aside for specific areas can be shifted around.

The declaration, by the Maritime Administration, parallels action taken last Friday involving 14 Greek ships. In both cases the administration, which sold the vessels, ruled the present owners had not furnished a required annual statement that they were being kept in seaworthy condition.

There was no question of non-payment, but the order said the 20-year mortgage would be foreclosed unless the certificates are filed.

Auto Workers Give Reuther Ammunition To Push Pay Raises

By GLENN ENGLE

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers convention stood ready today to pass President Walter P. Reuther some ammunition to use in his current unofficial negotiations with the auto industry.

The ammunition was in the form of a resolution which would threaten the industry with no more long-term contracts after 1955 unless it agreed promptly to some revisions in the five-year agreement now in force. Future contracts would be for no more than two years.

Reuther has contended that the pacts have become outdated because of inflation brought on by the Korean War, which was unforeseen when they were signed in 1950.

He has asked the auto industry to come up with voluntary revisions during negotiations on a conversion from the government's old to its new price index as a pay guide under the cost-of-living wage clause in the contracts.

General Motors already has agreed to make some changes, but not enough to suit the union. The other big companies reportedly have indicated they would prefer to delay action on the matter until they see what G. M. does.

The UAW has asked the car manufacturers to do this:

1. Put 20 of the 25 cents an hour gained under cost-of-living boosts since 1950 into the base rates to guard against losing it if remedial steps already taken for more security and a more effective guard force in the prison "will not be sufficient to prevent further trouble" unless recommendations of a special study commission are acted upon immediately, he said.

The governor's request included: 1-$800,500 to plan a $14,500,000 new medium security prison at Ionia for 1,200 youthful offenders, thus relieving overcrowding at Jackson prison.

2-$250,000 to remodel cell block No. 1 at Jackson into a new disciplinary block so the infamous Flock 15, heart of the riots, can be used for other purposes; later $153,000 will be needed to remodel cell Block 15.

3-$84,000 to add gun galleries at Jackson.

4-$95,403 to strengthen the probation and parole divisions, create a youth division, provide a psychiatrist at Jackson and enlarge vocational and educational staffs.

The recommendations also proposed for the future a $200,000 remodeling of cell block A at Marquette into a recreational, chapel and service unit.

Electric Supply Meeting Called

Escanaba City Council and officials of the Mead Corporation, parent concern of the Escanaba Paper Company, will meet informally at 10 a.m. tomorrow in City Hall to discuss the electric power shortage problem of the Escanaba area.

Representing the Mead Corporation will be H. E. Whitaker, president, and J. H. Cunningham, comptroller, both of Mead's Chillicothe, O., office.

The city of Escanaba purchases its electric power wholesale from Upper Michigan Power & Light Company, subsidiary of Mead Corporation. The contract will expire in 1950.

Mead Corporation has several times advised the city that it is not interested in renewing the contract and desires to get out of the electric power business. Expansion of the paper plant here is planned and all of the power now produced would be required for Escanaba Paper Company use.

The meeting tomorrow resulted from inquiries to Mead Corporation by the city, in which information was sought in connection with the city's efforts to find a solution to its power supply problem.

6294 Car License Tags Sold To Date

A total of 6294 auto license plates have been sold through the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce office so far this year. Hugh Givow, secretary of the chamber, said this morning.

The chamber sold about 5500 license plates by the deadline date, March 1. Late buyers have continued to come in since then, about 794 of them according to Givow's figures today.

Givow said 1085 commercial plates have been sold. The chamber also has sold 233 farm commercial licenses and 518 trailer licenses.

Givow said the number of auto plates sold here is not the same as the number of cars owned by Escanabans. He said quite a few traveling salesmen and other out-of-towners bought their plates here while passing through, and that probably some Escanabans had bought plates elsewhere in the state.

Pipeline Work To Start May 1

Earth-moving equipment and special devices for handling the 30-inch steel pipe on the proposed petroleum pipeline between Ironwood and St. Ignace will be received in the Upper Peninsula during the next 30 days, according to R. C. Campbell, right-of-way supervisor for the Bechtel Corporation, the builders.

Much of the heavy machinery will come by railroad, according to Campbell. A vast amount of the pipe, literally trainloads of it, has already been received from a plant of the United States Steel corporation at Orange, Texas. The line, when completed, will be one of the three largest in the world. Upper Peninsula railroads already are establishing pipe depots at points where roadway access is found to the proposed right-of-way. One of these may be seen at Isabella, in Delta county on U. S. 2, where 10 acres or more of land along the Soo Line right-of-way is literally covered by piles of the pipe, 20 feet high, and almost daily trains of flat-cars carrying the pipe are being unloaded there. The pipe covers the ground between U. S. 2 and the railroad at this point, ready to be trucked off to the right-of-way of the pipeline, miles to the north.

Construction work is slated to commence May 1 on the Upper Peninsula section of the pipeline, which next year, it is hoped, will be moving crude oil from Alberta to the refineries at Sarnia, Ont. Several hundred men, according to the Bechtel corporation, will be regularly employed to rush through completion of the project by December of this year.

It is estimated that the cost of the 635-mile section of the pipeline between Ironwood and Port Huron will be $7 million dollars including two booster pump stations in the Upper Peninsula—one at the western end, and another at or near the Straits of Mackinac. The pipe will be laid under water at the Straits, where the channel is narrowest, but where the water is approximately 250 feet deep.

Sisters Decide To Resume Plans For St. Mary's

MARQUETTE — Following a day-long conference with a delegation of citizens from Marquette, the Sisters of the Third Order of St. Francis, Peoria, Ill., have decided to resume their plans for construction of a $1,400,000 hospital in this city.

Announcement of the reversal of their recent decision to abandon the St. Mary's building project was received from Peoria by Thomas C. Harmon, Marquette, Upper Peninsula representative on the Michigan Hospital Advisory Council.

The Sisters decided March 16 not to continue with the St. Mary's project, due to plans for expansion of hospital facilities in Ishpeming and at St. Luke's Hospital in Marquette.

A group of Marquette citizens then decided to go to the Mother House in Peoria and present facts and figures which it hoped would persuade the Sisters to change their mind. There were 19 in the group which left Marquette Monday, and they attended sessions all day Tuesday at the Mother House.

The Sisters reversed their decision and decided to proceed with plans to build the 104-bed hospital. The four-story building, which will have a full basement, will be built on Fisher street adjacent to the present St. Mary's hospital.

Assurance has been given by Governor G. Mennen Williams that the $600,000 Federal grant for St. Mary's, through the Mill-Burton Act, is still available and allotted to the Sisters of the Third Both cars were considerably damaged. The parked car belonged to Eugene Holm, 402 Dakota Ave., Gladstone.

State Asks Bids On Two U. P. Bridges

Bids will be opened Tuesday, March 31, in Escanaba by the State Department for the construction of two highway bridges, one in Schoolcraft and the other in Gogebic county.

The project in Schoolcraft county calls for a bridge spanning Driggs River 2.5 miles east of Walsh on M-28. The highway is to be relocated at the crossing. The bridge in Gogebic county will be on relocated over the middle branch of the Ontonagon River, about five-tenths of a mile north of Watersmeet.

An exhibit will be made of work done by club members during the winter program. Sewing and woodworking have been the most popular projects and will make up most of the exhibit.

Ben Wastrate and Dorothy Erler, state 4-H Club leaders for the Upper Peninsula, will judge the exhibits. The work will be on display Friday and until noon Saturday.

The program Saturday will include a 4-H talent program in the morning and a style revue and awards program in the afternoon. The public is invited to attend. There is no admission charge.

Many Citizens Learn About City Government Through "Senior Day"

YESTERDAY the Seniors of the Escanaba High School "took over" controls of city government for a day. It was an annual program for the high school students and it is an event that deserves public commendation.

These youngsters get a lot of fun out of this project but that's not the major purpose. The principal objective is to acquaint the high school youngsters with the workings of municipal government—their government. The program of "taking

Need For New School Is Well Established

In the course of the discussions centering around the new school bond proposal, it has been suggested that perhaps a reason for the failure at the polls of the bond issue proposal of 1952 was that the campaign was too aggressive and that perhaps the issue was "oversold".

Frankly, we reject that theory. That could be an excuse advanced by some people for voting "No" but it hardly could be a genuine reason. We thought then that the proposal offered to the voters in 1952 was a good one for the well-being of the community and its school children. We still think so even though the people rejected it decisively. Now a new proposal, less ambitious perhaps but even more urgent, is being presented to the voters on April 6.

We believe this bond issue will carry, probably by a rather comfortable margin. The need is urgent and the public, we believe, fully understands the need. Our elementary school enrollment is swelling and our grade schools are obsolete. It's about time that we make a start towards a solution of this problem. The cost to the taxpayers is nominal, 75¢ a month or less to most property owners in the city.

But let's get back to the discussion about "overselling" the 1952 issue. We believe that the campaign proved the need for new school construction in Escanaba even if it did not convince the voters then that the proposal offered was a desirable one. And because that campaign accomplished at least a portion of its objective, that of proving the need for new grade schools, the 1953 proposal for a new elementary school bears a much brighter hope of success.

If there is any considerable opposition to this new proposal, it has not yet been indicated. The only logical conclusion that can be deduced is that most of the citizens of Escanaba, with justifiable pride in their children and their community, are prepared to vote for and to pay for a much-needed elementary school and special education school.

Leif Ericson—M. W., Interlaken, N. J.—In speaking of the Norseman who probably discovered North America about the year 1000 A. The Hollywood actor of the same name, however, pronounces his first name as if spelled "life."

but him—H. H. E., Milwaukee, Wis.—Mrs. Hemans stirred up a hornet's nest when she wrote (1826) "The boy stood on the burning deck, whence all but him had fled." Pedantic criticism was so great that, in the next edition of her poems two years later, she changed the line to, "Whence all but he had fled." She needn't have made the change, however. In Old English, but was construed as a preposition in similar constructions, and, although some grammarians still insist upon the contrary, the dictionaries of today say that but is correctly followed by pronouns in the objective case in such sentences as "All but him had fled."

The Doctor Says... Colds, Fatigue, Too Much Sun Are Often Cold Sore Causes

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.—Written for NEA Service

Cold sores, appearing at frequent intervals, are a troublesome ailment. The medical name for cold sores is herpes simplex, and the cause is a virus which is a small living organism too tiny to see under the ordinary microscope.

Cold sores are most common around the edges of the lip or the nose. Why this should be is something of a mystery, though the mucous membranes of the lips and outer nasal passages are perhaps more sensitive to attack by the virus.

Herpes is particularly common in association with colds or fevers of almost any kind. Too much sun, fatigue and other things are also often responsible for their appearance.

X-RAYS MAY HELP

Treatment of such cases is not always easy. Protective ointments may be helpful. Small doses of X-rays have been used and may prevent future attacks.

One of the most interesting forms of treatment which has been tried in recent years is smallpox vaccination.

The smallpox vaccine is itself, of course, a virus preparation and why it should have a helpful effect on cold sores is a little difficult to understand. Nevertheless, in many cases of herpes simplex, smallpox vaccination has had a beneficial effect in preventing the cold sores from coming back again and again.

An ordinary cold sore does not need to be described since everyone should know what it looks like. Herpes may occur oc-

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower confessed to visiting congressmen the other day that he was having trouble cutting the budget.

"I guess it's a lot easier to balance the budget on the stump," blurted Ohio's brash Congressman Wayne Hays, referring to Eisenhower's campaign speeches on government economy.

The President's friendly grin suddenly froze.

"I never promised either to balance the budget or reduce taxes during the campaign," he said gravely. "I campaigned against waste in government, and I told my associates throughout the campaign that the issue was waste, not necessarily lower taxes."

IKE'S TAXES

President Eisenhower, like everybody else last week, was complaining about high taxes. Only he was more private about it. He told an aide that the high taxes made it almost impossible for him to make both ends meet. Ike was especially unhappy because congress now makes him pay taxes on his $50,000 expense money while President Truman got his expense money tax-free. Because of this change, Ike claimed he's paying an additional $39,000 a year in taxes. Despite all this, however, he's still against cutting taxes until the budget is balanced.

Incidentally, Harry Truman was able to save most all of his fifty-thousand tax-free expense money because he lived at Blair House, which is too small for big, expensive, White House receptions. When Truman left the White House, he had saved almost $200,000—most of it from his tax-free expense account.

FDR, JR. IN WHITE HOUSE

President Eisenhower was not surprised when two recent guests seemed very much at home in the White House. One was Democratic Congressman Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, whose father lived there longer than any other President in history. The other was GOP Congressman William Harrison of Wyoming, grandson of President William Henry Harrison.

Both, however, got a big thrill attending a "get-acquainted" luncheon with Ike and 18 house colleagues. When Ike modestly began asking young Roosevelt some questions about the White House interior, remarking that the New Yorker was a long-time occupant in his youth, Roosevelt hastened to explain:

"Actually, I wasn't here too much when father was President. I was away at school and then went into the Navy."

Another guest at the luncheon, Democratic Congressman Harley Staggers of West Virginia, couldn't resist getting in a friendly rib about the way Capitol Hill Republicans have been opposing some of Eisenhower's legislative proposals.

"Mr. President, we're all having a grand time at these luncheons you have been giving members of congress," said Staggers, impishly. "I'm sure the luncheons are contributing to bipartisan understanding. If you keep it up, you'll probably get the support of your own party in Congress."

Ike started to reply, thought better of it, then broke into a hearty laugh.

STATE DEPARTMENT MAIL

Secretary of State Dulles has issued a new order to his diplomats that has the State Department in titter. The order is that all letters must be personally answered.

Since the State Department receives more than 10,000 letters a week in normal times, and up to around 100,000 letters when it's engaged in a controversy with McCarthy, this order means that State Department officials are doing nothing much but answer mail.

The plan, as outlined by Secretary Barnhart, of the Chamber, will be workable and effective only if a maximum of businessmen—and that includes large and small organizations—enroll in it. Every merchant with a phone in his establishment should get into it, and many have already done so.

We think the Chamber has moved wisely, and in a somewhat unique manner, to organize the businessmen of this community in the self-protective plan. It is this sort of service which makes a Chamber of Commerce valuable to the community and to itself.

'Free' German Youth:

Seven Million Youngsters March And Drill Under Soviet Leaders

By FRED SPARKS

BERLIN—(NEA)—This Spring militarized Communist German teenagers will hold their first warlike field maneuvers.

On the rolling plains of Mecklenburg, in East Germany, battalions of the trained juniors, 14 to 17, will maneuver with the now fully-activated Northern Group of the East German Wehrmacht.

Companies of husky boys will dig entrenchments, repair roads and haul ammo. Others will man anti-aircraft guns, maintain communications and run messages.

"Commandos" of primary school age will sabotage enemy dumps, snipe, cut off stragglers, plant mines.

Girls will treat wounded and, in civvies, infiltrate enemy lines to spy out artillery positions.

Political officers will frankly tell all: "The war-game 'enemy' is the American 'imperialist.'"

Supervising will be high ranking Soviet officers attached to the reborn Wehrmacht — this time under a red flag, not a swastika.

Those maneuvering will be but of the 7,000,000 German children now firmly in Kremlin's hands as members of the Freie Deutsche Jugend (FDJ).

Organized town by town and block by block, Free German Youth represents the Kremlin's boldest move to cement its control of East Germany into the distant tomorrow.

Analysis of the flood of refugees now fleeing East Europe proves FDJ juniors to be Moscow's most loyal, devoted human satellites.

To get the frightful feel of militarism reborn, come with me into a huge gymnasium in East Berlin and look at the stage.

Onto a wooden platform strut three straw blonde children, erect as palace guards, and blow a series of spine-tingling bugle blasts.

Then, with theatrical flourish, the ceiling lights dim. One spot picks out a wall portrait of Joseph Stalin over a blue, white and gold FDJ banner. Another beams on a sturdy Gruppenfuehrer (group leader).

As he marches forward his highly polished jack boots rap on the planks like a nervous chairman's gavel.

For a split second his hard blue eyes scan the precise lines of several hundred youngsters, the largest 14, the smallest six.

They stand at absolute attention, silent; not a baby hand twitches, not a pair of lips smile. Their uniforms are well-preserved.

The Gruppenfuehrer raises his right arm in a salute almost identical with that favored by Hitler's brown shirts, except the elbow bends and the hand, palm out, is almost parallel with the forehead.

Another problem was to support the schools. This was solved by taxation. All persons who own taxable property help to support the schools. This is considered fair, since all persons benefit from the education of all the others.

The first public school was opened in Boston in 1821. It offered a single course and it did not prepare students for college. Philadelphia in 1838 opened a high school with three courses, one of which was college preparatory.

Preparing able teachers was still another problem. To this end, state normal schools were put into operation, the first in 1839.

Today no other country in the world has so large a proportion of its young people in school to the age of eighteen.

The first real plan for popular education began among the Puritans in England, but they lost control of the government before this could be put into effect. Meanwhile, the English settlements in America gave a new opportunity to develop schools for the people.

Town elementary schools were opened by community agreement in New England, although they had no laws to protect them. They were a beginning for wholesome, democratic process of school founding.

Over the caviar-laden banquet tables at Yalta, Stalin agreed with Churchill and Roosevelt that militarism, as such, must never return to the Reich.

But today FDJ rallies feature such ditties as "Battle Song for the Young Generation" with these punch lines:

"We want to be soldiers for the people."

"And fighters for our Fatherland."

"We will be the people's soldiers."

"And Germany will be yours and mine."

When Communist kiddies sing of a "Germany (that) will be yours and mine" they mean without the irritating pimple of a Free Berlin, without the French, British and American Zones.

Discussing the youth movement the U. S. High Commissioner's Office says: "FDJ leaders are instructed in guerrilla tactics . . . 'elite' groups are being accustomed to the 'putsch' idea and physical violence."

All Allied officials agree: If the Russians dare a World War and move to crush us in Berlin, FDJ hoodlums would spear—head the street brawls.

Mature citizens, who saw Germany brought to waste by just such wild-eyed youngsters, shake their heads and say: "Yah, Yah. In Germany a little child again might lead us to the grave."

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS—The public schools of America are, to many people, more than an educational institution—they represent a way of life.

This was impressed upon us at a recent meeting of Escanaba citizens attending an elementary school bond issue campaign meeting in Escanaba Junior High School.

"We all recognize that the public schools are unique," said Mrs. N. L. Lindquist, vice president of the Escanaba Board of Education. "We all know how much they contribute to American education, economy, and unity. I know that all of you want this bond issue to carry so that Escanaba can provide the schools we need for our children."

"The measure of a community is in the schools it builds," said Charles Gessner, Escanaba businessman. "This public school building program is a challenge to the people of Escanaba."

The Rev. Gustav Lund, pastor of Bethany Lutheran Church, described the civic failure of the people of St. Paul, Minn., to build the public schools it needed. St. Paul declined economically while its sister city of Minneapolis rapidly expanded.

"I have lived here for nine years," said Norman Hansen, Escanaba businessman, "and I have watched what has been happening to our schools lately. If our fathers and grandfathers had no more intestinal fortitude than we have shown, America would not be what it is today."

"We cannot say that we in Escanaba are too poor to build the schools we need," said the Rev. Joseph Dickson, pastor of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church. "Last year our people were asked for one million dollars over a period of 20 years to build schools, but the bond issue lost and we were told we could not afford it. Then this year within one month a portion of the people in our community raised a half-million for a school they wanted. The money is here. It is up to the people of Escanaba whether they want to go ahead."

At the conclusion of the meeting, Dr. Roy Johnson, chairman of the school bond issue committee, read from a brochure issued by the Escanaba Board of Education:

"We firmly believe that the Public School is one of the foundations of American democracy. It is there that the children of all races and creeds learn to work in harmony and with wholesome good will."

AND THEIR HISTORY—Public education in the United States was born in the midst of the Revolutionary War, according to the World Book Encyclopedia.

New 3-D Science Film To Startle Audiences

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (P) — Today the wraps were taken off a supersecret science fiction film, the first in three dimensions. The picture has an unusual switch.

The creatures who arrive on earth from another planet are not invaders, but visitors. They happen here by mistake and work like beavers to get back home.

The picture is called "It Came From Outer Space," and it features Richard Carlson and Barbara Rush. It was filmed in its entirety with a "no visitors" sign on the stage door. Usually the sign is merely to keep the riffraff out, but this time it was for real. Even the studio's press agent was not allowed on the set, and that is being drastic.

Rocket Ship Lands

Studios sometimes use such methods when they have a unique story idea they don't want swiped by quickie outfitts. But now that the Universal-International film is completed, the studio is willing to talk about it. I chatted with young, thoughtful-looking Ray Bradbury, one of the most successful science fiction writers. He authored the original story.

"I started from the premise that there will be conflict if the inhabitants of two planets meet," he explained. "My reasoning is this: If there is any life on other planets, it is doubtful if it has developed into human form. Even if these creatures are intellectually developed beyond humans so that they have abolished war and conflict, there will be a shock when they meet earth people."

"The two races will be so dissimilar that conflict is bound to result. So I envisioned creatures landing here by mistake in a rocket ship. They work feverishly to keep out of sight of humans until

Nelson Vs. Hall Heard In Court

The suit of Louis Nelson, contractor, of 1028 N. 18th St., vs. Briton Hall of Escanaba for judgments of $95 and $495.80 was being heard today in Circuit Court with Judge Glenn W. Jackson presiding.

In another court development this morning Judge Jackson ruled for the defendant on a directed verdict and dismissed the jury in the case of Clara Longworth, Menasha, Wis., plaintiff, vs. Montgomery Ward and Co. Inc., and Glen Westberg, formerly of Escanaba and now of South Dakota, the defendants.

Mrs. Longworth was injured in August, 1959, when the auto in which she was riding collided with a car allegedly driven by Westberg while on Montgomery Ward business.

Mrs. Longworth was represented by McGinn and Fitzharris, the defendants by Ernest W. Brown.

Disagree On Charges

In Nelson vs. Hall, Nelson's declaration stated he entered into an agreement October 15, 1951 to build a fireplace in a house then being constructed by Hall. Hall agreed to pay Nelson $200 for labor and $95 for material, the declaration alleges. Nelson said Hall paid the $200 but refused to pay the $95 balance.

Nelson's declaration also alleges Hall owes him $495.80 for goods sold and delivered to Hall December 1, 1951, for which Hall has not paid.

In reply, Hall admitted a deal to build a fireplace but the contract was for $200 only, which he paid. He denied Nelson completed the fireplace in a good workmanlike manner as Nelson had alleged.

He denied Nelson's claim Nelson had sold and delivered him $495.80 worth of goods. He said he had paid Nelson all the money he ever had agreed to pay him.

Jury Hearing Case

Hall said he had agreed to pay $45 for a chimney Nelson built him, and actually had paid it. He said Nelson had done a $100 wiring job for him, but that the wiring job was poor and he had to have it done over at a cost of $55.19. Hall wished to pay Nelson the difference between $100 and $55.19, namely $44.81.

Hall requested a judgment in his favor with costs.

Jurors hearing the case are Josephine Decker, Escanaba; Anna Molloy, Escanaba; Mrs. Ruth Hamilton, Gladstone; Agnes Hupuy, Gladstone; Mrs. Gloria Buntjer, Ensign; Veronica Lott, Escanaba; Gordon Barbeaux, Fairbanks; Helen Maude LaMotte, Garden; Ernest Fostering, Maple Ridge; Dorothy Zimmel, Gladstone; Pearl C. Schram, Gladstone; and Lillian Olsen, Ensign.

Nelson is represented by A. W. Strom and Hall by McGinn and Fitzharris.

Senior class winner this morning was Maxine Berntsen while Shirley Dubord was the finalist in the Junior class. The word which stumped all but the sophomore girl was "isolationist".

Others competing for class and school championships this morning were: Seniors—Karl Gray, Donna Knudson, Leo Lacross, John Larson, Bonnie MacRae, Marian Steede and William Weissert; Juniors—Ron Bennett; Lecturing knight, Ed Gravelle; secretary, Jess Lavette; treasurer, Phenix Benard; trustee, Mike Walsh; tyler, Oliver Roman.

Doctor Draft Law Changes Scheduled

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department has proposed some changes in the doctor draft law, but the Budget Bureau wants the Pentagon to clarify some of those proposals before it stamps its approval on the changes.

Exactly what the Budget Bureau has in mind was not made known immediately, but Pentagon officials said they believed it had to do with the classification of military medical men.

Replacements Run High

The Defense Department released yesterday the text of proposed new legislation, designed to extend the Pentagon's authority to draft medical men beyond its June 30 expiration date. The proposals went to the Budget Bureau for review.

President Eisenhower has approved lowering the number of physicians to be drafted.

Robert Lovett, defense secretary under President Truman said in his final report, issued last week, that more than 6,000 doctors, dentists and veterinarians would be needed as replacement in the fiscal year starting July 1 and that the replacement requirement in the following year would reach nearly 11,000.

Since the medical draft began in July, 1951, 5,146 doctors and 2,521 dentists have been called into military service or earmarked for induction.

About 13,700 In

Eisenhower announced last month that the number of doctors to be drafted in the second quarter of 1953 will be lowered from 1,800 to 1,200. He said the cutback was approved by top government officials.

President Eisenhower has approved an extension of the doctor draft law, the Defense Department cited the growth of the military medical services since the start of the Korean War. In June, 1950, there were 6,200 doctors in military service. Today there are about 13,700.

Defense officials said today they believe the Budget Bureau wants the Pentagon to change its plan to group all medical men into two categories with respect to their military obligations. Current law divides medical men into four groups.

Divisions Skeletonized

The Pentagon proposed that group I would include all doctors, dentists and other medical specialists who have had no previous military service. These would be called according to age, with the younger men being subject to first call.

Group II would include medical people who have had some previous military duty. Those with the least prior service would be called first after the younger men in group I had been exhausted.

King's Car: Lieutenant Owns It, Just For The Novelty

By TOM STONE

FRANKFURT, Germany — First Lt. Carl F. Montgomery drives a car fit for a king.

It is a 16-foot long Bugatti Royale built for ex-King Carol of Romania before he fled into permanent exile.

A "Flying Boxcar" pilot at Rhine Main air base here, Montgomery bought the sleek 1931 speedster from a British dealer "just for the novelty." Originally the car cost $40,000. Montgomery won't say what he paid for it.

When he brought it across the English channel on the Dover-Dunkerque ferry, he was charged the same heavy toll as a city bus.

Driving through a small French town on his way back to Germany, pedestrians cheered as he passed by.

"It's like that everywhere I go," he said.

The car, now 22 years old, is still in excellent mechanical condition and "handles as easy as a brand new American car." It gets between seven and eight miles per gallon of gasoline and was built to travel up to 130 miles an hour.

"I haven't opened it up yet," Montgomery says, but admits he has driven it pretty fast.

The car was designed and built by Ettore Bugatti who was noted for his fast, expensive and unusual cars. Less than a dozen Royales were built. They were produced chiefly for ruling monarchs.

Montgomery doesn't know exactly how many owners it has had.

It has three forward gears. The first is for starting and the second gear is the direct drive for speeds between two and 90 miles an hour. The third is for use on long straight roads when maximum speed is desired.

Where to park it?

"That's a cinch," Montgomery chuckles, "all I have to do is to find a parking place big enough for two cars, then I squeeze into it."

LT. MONTGOMERY sits at the wheel of his royal car.

Congressional Quiz

By Congressional Quarterly
1. Q—What recognition is Congress giving to the ever-increasing number of veterans in our population?

A—Since 1942 more than 500 measures have been passed dealing with veterans or their dependents. Scores of bills have been introduced in the new Congress.

The House of Representatives has a standing committee—the Veterans' Affairs Committee—to handle veterans legislation. There are now more than 19 million living veterans.

2. Q—How much is it costing to provide the various benefit and services to veterans?

A—Outgoing President Truman Jan. 9 recommended appropriation of $4.6 billion for veterans services for fiscal 1954, beginning July 1, 1953. Estimated expenditures for veterans programs in fiscal 1952 were nearly $6 billion. About $1.1 billion of this came from trust and working funds; Congressional appropriations provided somewhat less than $4.9 billion.

3. Q—What is considered the most important piece of veterans legislation this year?

A—The 82nd Congress July 4, 1952, passed the Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act of 1952—the new "GI Bill of Rights"—for Korean veterans. It was patterned after the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944 and provides for guaranteed home, farm and business loans; and education allowances.

4. Q—What unemployment benefits are open to returning veterans of the Korean fighting?

A—Those who have served during the Korean conflict are entitled to unemployment benefits of up to $26 a week for 26 weeks, depending on rates established in the various states.

5. Q—What's being done to settle the question of ownership of the so-called tidelands?

A—Both the Senate Interior and the House Judiciary Committee have held hearings to consider legislation to determine ownership of the off-shore submerged lands. The Senate group studied four bills and one amendment, the House unit weighed some 40 bills. Some Members proposed giving the federal government title to the lands, but proposals to confirm titles in the states have widest support in Congress.

Great Lakes Area Prepared For Good Business This Year

DETROIT (AP) — Business will be good in the Great Lakes area this spring.

The Great Lakes Regional Advisory Board estimated that freight carloadings for the second quarter of 1953 would total 720,054 for all commodities in this industrial region.

This would be a spectacular increase of 26.4 per cent over actual carloadings of 569,764 originating in the Great Lakes area in April, May and June of 1952.

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Federal Judge Raymond W. Starr virtually threw the book at a narcotics case defendant.

He sentenced Leo Ciavino, 46, of Chicago, to a six-year prison term, a $4,000 fine, and four years probation.

Ciavino, charged with sales of narcotics, was one of three men seized Dec. 20 in connection with an alleged Benton Harbor dope ring. Raiders arrested the three.

A supply of heroin valued at $100,000 in the illicit retail trade was seized at the home of Thomas J. Jenkins, according to federal agents.

Jenkins, 47, and Napoleon Trotter, 46, of Kalamazoo, also have been sentenced to prison terms.

Airport Doubles As Yule Tree Farm

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (AP) — Wood County Airport is going to grow Christmas trees.

It's a sideline project planned by Wallace Bennion, field manager to increase revenue. Three years ago he harvested hay between landing strips.

This spring Bennion planted 2,000 Scotch pine and spruce seedlings. He plans eventually to have 100,000 bordering the field.

Bennion says he will have small table-size Christmas trees on sale three years from now. And room-sized trees in five years.

The advisory board also said that early opening of navigation in the Great Lakes will result in some increase this spring over normal loadings of iron ore, iron and steel automobiles, vehicles parts, and and stone and slag.

Loadings of stone and slag, which are used in steel manufacture, are expected to increase 37.8 per cent over last spring. An increase of 37 per cent is forecast in shipment of automobile parts.

Big Draft Calls To Be Reduced

WASHINGTON (P)—The Defense Department said draft calls may be reduced, starting in July, from the current monthly rate of 53,000 to around 37,000 or lower.

A spokesman explained that the possible trimming of draft quotas represents a projection of earlier estimates that 450,000 men will be required in the year starting July to replace soldiers who will complete their two year service in the fiscal year 1954. Former Assistant Defense Secretary Anna Rosenberg announced the estimate several months ago in explaining the need for raising the draft calls above the 50,000 level.

Needs Level Off

A spokesman recalled that Mrs. Rosenberg and other defense officials said last year that after the rapid rise and fall of draft calls in the first two years of the Korean War, the military services, particularly the Army, expected to be able to level off at the rate which would give them just enough men to replace those who left the service each month.

Secretary of Defense Wilson last week voiced the hope that draft calls could be reduced shortly. The secretary coupled this hope with a positive statement that current military manpower total of about 3½ million would be reduced after July.

Wilson explained that the reductions he had in mind would result from reducing the manpower strength of divisions and units in the United States.

Variation Explained

Defense spokesmen have explained that the ebb and flow of the draft calls was largely the result of the calling up of large numbers of reserves and National Guardsmen in the early months of the war. They said that until it became known how many reservists would remain on active duty no even level of draft quotas could be established.

TODAY'S MESSAGE

A doctor found it necessary to use a local anaesthetic in order to perform a delicate operation upon a little girl. In kindness he pressed a shiny half dollar into her hand and said, "Hold onto this, and think about it. It's yours. It will help you." The operation proceeded successfully. When the doctor visited his little patient the next day, she said, "Thank you so much for the wonderful words on the pretty coin—"In God We Trust." I think about them all the time. They help me. They must help others, too."

Too many in our time are trusting in the face value of the coin alone and dismissing the expression of faith in God that is engraved on it. Where is your faith? Unless the object of your faith is right and mighty you will never reach your objective. Until you place your complete trust in Jesus Christ who loved you and gave Himself for you, Heaven will elude you and earth will be a tangled maze in which you struggle hopelessly.

To hearten Martha at the grave of Lazarus, Jesus said, "If thou wouldst believe, thou shouldst see the glory of God." In those brief words is the eternal principle that faith will be rewarded here and hereafter.

TODAY'S PRAYER

I do not ask, O Lord, that life should always be a pleasant road; I do not ask that Thou shouldst take from me aught of its load... For one thing only, Lord, dear Lord, I plead, lead me aright, though strength should falter and though heart should bleed, through faith to light. Amen.—Adelaide Anne Proctor.

Old Woman Dies As Husband Seeks Aid

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (P)—An 85-year-old woman was burned to death in the living room of her home while her husband, also 85, sought help at a firehouse next door.

Mrs. Frances Mosher accidentally set her clothing afire when she tripped over a portable oil heater. Her husband, Alfred, tried vainly to beat out the fire then ran next door to Engine Company 14.

Firemen quickly put out the blaze but Mrs. Mosher was beyond aid.

"We know you killed those babies. You had already baptised them and you wanted to populate Heaven with them."

Bosses Have Most Worries, But Not Most Breakdowns

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Bosses in industry have more "take-home worries" than do workers, yet there are fewer nervous breakdowns among them, a Michigan expert on industrial hygiene reports.

"Management people are under more emotional stress than workers because of their greater responsibilities in connection with the plant's work," said Dr. C. D. Selby of the University of Michigan, "but they have more ability to stand up against it. And that's one reason why they are in the management group."

Plenty of Ulcers

He said in an interview at the annual meeting of the American Academy of General Practice that bosses actually have a higher rate of emotion-linked stomach ulcers than workers do, and he explained the apparent paradox this way:

"Such ulcers result from the working of the subconscious mind over which a man has no control. Thus the management group, being under greater over-all strain, may get more peptic ulcers than workers. On the other hand, people in this group are better able to control emotions they are conscious of, and hence have fewer nervous breakdowns."

In an earlier talk to the academy, Dr. Selby, formerly a medical consultant for the General Motors Corp., put it this way:

"It is suspected that they (the bosses and supervisors) become immune to the effects of problems over which they have little, or no control, or in the solution of which they have done the best they were able to do under the circumstances."

Women Under Strain

While his talk was concerned with industrial people, Dr. Selby said he felt the same situation would hold true for top-rankers, and those they supervised, in business.

might be linked with the hustle and bustle of getting the family ready for vacation after a year in which these women have been under a strain trying to run a home while working, arranging for people to mind the children while they themselves were working, and so forth."

Industrial doctors should give management guidance on placing people because, if a man "is advanced too apidly or too far above his former job level" he might get "a considerable rise in blood pressure." Children Get Meat

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Miami Beach butcher, Irving Orling, has agreed to send his former wife five pounds of meat weekly for their two children.

Circuit Judge Wayne Allen wrote the meat order into an agreement of $15 a week for support of Toby and Anita Orling.

The judge didn't stipulate the kind of meat to be delivered, but observed: "They are your children and I assume you wouldn't send them gristle."

Used Car Dealers Hold Large Stocks

By DAVID J. WILKIE

Associated Press Auto Editor
DETROIT (P)—Dealers in used cars are holding larger stocks today than they did a year ago—perhaps 25 per cent greater.

The stocks are held by two kinds of dealers—the franchised new car retailer and the independent dealer handling only used cars. By far the larger volume of vehicles is in the hands of the franchised retailer whose inventory piled up as he sought to clear out outgoing models in preparation for 1953 model introductions.

Capital Tied Up

The independent used car dealer, who buys only the cars he wants, has slightly large stocks, but expects a sharp upturn in his business in the coming spring and summer months.

Some of the franchised dealers have expressed concern that they have so much capital tied up in used car inventories. But their worries aren't shared by the auto manufacturers. The factory heads say the used car market is just as far from the saturation point as in the new car market.

The most recent figures in hand regarding used car inventories show that in mid-February franchised dealers held 663,706 vehicles of this type. The figures are based on reports by franchised dealers to the motor vehicle division of the National Production Authority.

Spring Boom Expected

To these figures, of course, must be added the inventories of the independent used car dealers. These stocks are up slightly, too, but the National Used Car Dealers Association reports no great worry on the part of these dealers.

Their sales, the association reports, have slowed down somewhat compared to what they were last year at this time. However, James C. Downing, board chairman of the association, says "the used car business is expected to become very active during the spring and summer months." He adds that "dealer profit margin will be narrowed as a consequence of high new car production and the resulting availability of a large number of used automobiles."

Law Gives Schools Permit To Borrow

LANSING (P)—Legislation took effect Wednesday to permit financially-distressed school districts to borrow more money until the state catches up with school aid allocations.

Gov. Williams signed the bill late Tuesday, allowing schools to borrow up to 100 per cent of their future state aid allocations and to pledge their full faith and credit for repayment of the loans.

Funny Business By Hershberger

"It does that every time the market drops!"

Carnival

By Dick Turner

"Must you be such a light tipper, Waldo?"

What to say? How to act?

Many of these questions are answered in a timely new book called "Decisions," (published by Oliver Bordes)—a graduate's guide to business. It is being distributed to high school students in the Cincinnati, Ohio and Kentucky areas to help them formulate plans and ideas in respect to future jobs.

Information in the book is provided by some 66 important U.S. industries. They offer helpful information and brief editorials on what training is needed for different jobs, how to continue education after graduation and while working, and what to expect from that first job.

"How to Begin Your Business Career," an article in the book by William L. Franz, supervisor of employment for the Proctor and Gamble Company, gives helpful hints to job-seeking neophytes. Franz has this to say:

"Keep your thoughts to the fact that you are selling personal service, not just trying to find a job. The 'You' approach is important. What I can do for you is a lot more convincing (to the prospective employer) than 'What you do for me?'"

That's a good first point to keep in mind. Too many young people look for cushy jobs, instead of trying to offer their services, banking on future advancements.

He suggests planning a job-getting campaign—organizing your time and efforts so that you do not rush into the job "merely to attach yourself to a payroll."

Shun the "I can do anything" eager-beaver attitude in favor of determining the job at which you can be of the greatest value, he advises. Compile a personal experience record for your own information. Simply list every type of summer job, school activity, hobby and course of study you have taken. Include all minor details. Then determine your job niche by noting your successes and failures.

Dress neatly, appropriately, conservatively...

A smile helps your approach. It makes you more attractive, makes you feel more at ease...

Ask intelligent questions, and hold your share of the interview...

Show a cooperative attitude. Comply with requests for an aptitude test...

Watch your grammar...

Tell about special abilities, hobbies and outside interests...

Leave promptly when the interview is terminated.

Thank the interviewer for the opportunity of presenting your qualifications. Keep your self-assurance in the face of discouragement.

Easy Exercises For Daily Use

Teen-agers, people have an ideal picture of you as a little, tiny-waisted, slender creature. If you want to be like that, but tend to be more on the chunky side, there is, besides diet, something to do about it.

There are exercises that aren't too difficult or strenuous for an average teen-ager to do every day. These are good old stand-bys that girls have been profiting by for years:

1. Waist slenderizer A. Stand with feet together and reach for the ceiling. Then touch your toes, keeping knees straight.

2. Waist slenderizer B. Stand with feet apart, left hand on left knee. With right arm overhead, pull your body to the left. Reverse arms and pull body to the right. Pull down as far as you can go.

3. Hip reducer. Sit cross-legged, hands on knees. Rock back and forth on the hips, as many times as you can.

4. Tummy flattener. Lie flat on floor, arms at sides. Raise legs to a 45-degree angle, and lower them at a snail's pace while keeping the knees straight. Count to 10 to help keep the downward motion slow.

Red Cross Drive May Be Finished Saturday

Efforts are being extended to wind up the annual Red Cross Roll Call by the end of the current week, it was stated yesterday by Harold Mackie, chairman of the drive in Gladstone.

Only a few solicitors still have envelopes out and the last of these are expected to be turned in to the local chairman by Saturday.

Indications at present are that Gladstone will hit about 80 per cent or a little better of the quota set for the drive, Chairman Mackie declares. He said that in all probability the total from Gladstone would reach $2500 by the weekend. The quota set for this city this year was $3100.

A house-to-house canvass is not being contemplated at this time.

Chairman Mackie stated, however, that in the event some persons have been overlooked and not contacted for a donation and they desire to make one, that the contribution may be left at either of the local banks or sent directly to the chairman.

Urge Support Of Cancer Drive

Full support of the April cancer fund drive is requested by Mayor Vernon C. Linderoth in a proclamation issued yesterday.

The proclamation, in urging generous public support of the fund raising venture, points out that one-fifth of the people of Schoolcraft County will eventually develop cancer. This figure is based on statistics which reflect cancer incidence throughout the state and nation.

This would mean, Linderoth states, that around 1,500 persons in the county will eventually develop the disease unless a big change is made in the statistical trend.

These facts underscore the grim need for funds, locally and nationally, to continue the fight against cancer, the mayor said.

The proclamation officially designates April as "Cancer Control Month" and requests all citizens to observe the occasion and lend their support to the American Cancer Society's 1953 crusade.

The fund campaign will open Wednesday, April 1, under the supervision of Carl Carlson, county drive chairman. Various committee workers in the city and county will be announced later.

Local Adventists Will Take Part In Offering Saturday

Sabbath school members of the Manistique Seventh-day Adventist church will take part in a nationwide offering Saturday to expand educational facilities for nearly 20,000 Adventist youth in the Philippine Islands, it is announced by the Rev. Leo Clyde, pastor.

In announcing the offering Mrs. Donald Blosser, Cooks, Sabbath school superintendent, stated that the Philippine Union College in Manila is overcrowded, and that a 240-acre property on Mindanao is available for $14,000. Here students can have agricultural training, and a lumber industry will enable them to meet their tuition and other expenses.

Five senior academies and 135 elementary schools operated by the Seventh-day Adventist church in the Philippines have swollen student enrollment at the Manila College from 135 in 1947 to 600 today.

Two other schools will be benefited by the offering—the Japan Missionary College near Tokyo and the North Celebes Training School in Indonesia. There are 235,808 young people enrolled in Adventist schools round the world.

The Manistique church takes seriously the business of educating its young people. The Rev. Clyde said. Besides paying their regular public school tax and contributing to schools in other lands, the members support their own one-room parochial school at Cooks.

Any Bonds Today?

Mary Pickford, "America's Sweetheart" of silent film days, will embark on a nation-wide tour of the U. S. to promote the Bond-a-Month campaign in April. Just 35 years ago, the "Little Liberty Lady" with the golden curls, shown below, toured the nation pleading with the people to buy Liberty Bonds. Her work during the World War I period netted Uncle Sam nearly $50 million.

Parking Ticket Is Summons To Altar

NEW YORK (AP)—Just a year ago Miss Evelyn Tienken, 19, stenographer, stood in line more than two hours to pay a parking fine for her boss at Manhattan Traffic Court.

Behind the window Lloyd Johnson, 25, a court officer, took the ticket and a $5 bill, returned a dollar in change and talked with the pretty Brooklyn girl until other people in line began to protest.

That ended Miss Tienken's traffic difficulties but not her relations with the court. Recently she was married to Johnson at the Congregational Church in Brooklyn on the exact anniversary of their meeting.

Swimming Star Balks At Order

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—Clark Scholes, the Michigan State College Olympic champion, is passing up the AAU swimming tourney starting April 2 in New Haven, Conn.

Scholes cabled the AAU his decision yesterday, at the same time repeating a request for permission to remain here to fill engagements.

The 10-meter Olympic champion said he is out of training and not prepared for title competition. He wouldn't have time to get to New Haven anyway and be in shape on the long trip, he said.

The AAU sanctioned a New Zealand exhibition tour for Scholes with the understanding that he would return for the New Haven meet.

Scholes' tour was to have ended yesterday. The New Zealand Amateur Swimming association asked the AAU in vain for an extension of the tour.

Academic Agency Cracking Down On College Athletics

CHICAGO (AP)—Oklahoma A&M and Bradley have become targets for an athletic cleanup campaign of a powerful accrediting academic agency, and an official of the group today warned that "it's just the beginning."

The North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools has acted to drop the Stillwater, Okla., school from academic accreditation and place the Peoria, Ill., university on a one-year probation.

The recommendation for such a move was made at the association's annual week-long meeting yesterday by its Commission on Colleges and Universities. The Association's Executive Committee immediately approved it.

Meeting Tomorrow

Officials said the matter will be placed before the NCA's entire delegation tomorrow and ratification by that body was more or less a formality.

Aussies Win Singles From American Stars

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The Australians won both singles matches and the Americans took the doubles contest Wednesday night in the pro tennis series.

Frank Sedgman defeated Jack Kramer, 6-3, 6-4, and now trails the American professional champion, 34 matches to 21.

Ken McGregor defeated Pauch Segura, 7-5, 10-8. Segura still leads in the series, 42-14.

Kramer and Segura won a set of doubles, 6-3. The Australians, however, are ahead, 31-24, as the troupe moves to Memphis.

will match Escanaba Skinny's Bar against a highly regarded Hermansville Joe's Tavern club. Another Escanaba quint, the City League leading Harnischfegers, will be in action against the Green Bay Billy Goats at 10 Friday.

CYO Cagers Win

In last night's action on the Manistique CYO team turned in an impressive 72-67 victory over Iron River Nasser's Bar. Manistique goes against Menominee Jozwiaks tonight at 8.

Lawrence Seymour led the CYO cagers with 20 points last night and had big assists from Cornelius Sochay and Price with 16 points apiece. Chet Gallagher paced the Iron River team with 20.

Manistique jumped out to a 24-19 first period lead and stretched the gap to 47-38 at the half. Nasser's rallied strong in the third period with a two-point deficit, 54-52. Manistique outscored the Iron county quint 18-15 in a fast final period.

Nauts Meet Al's

Jozwiaks gained the quarterfinals by running away from the Cooks Bombers in an opener Tuesday night.

Ishpeming Nauts, a 9 o'clock favorite for Escanaba Al's tonight moved through last night's second round action by tripping Green Bay Linpark 61-44 on the strength of a big 26 points by Bob Smith. Ishpeming led throughout the game.

The Niagara Badgers notched a 67-39 victory over Marquette with Tom Brown scoring 17 points for the winners. Red Kreig, Bancroft sparkplug, hit 16 for the losers.

In the final game last night the Menominee DAR quint eliminated Wallace 68-55 with England setting a 17-point scoring pace for the winners. Voskamp took scoring honors in the game with 21 points. The Menominee team meets a classy Powers-Spalding team tonight in the windup at 10.

Araujo Easy Winner Over Red Top Davis

CLEVELAND (AP)—Methodical George Araujo, an easy winner today awaited his turn at trying for the lightweight boxing championship.

Tommy Collins gets his chance April 24 in Boston when he battles the champion, Jimmy Carter. Araujo has been promised a crack at the winner.

The Packers' schedule of six games includes contests with Baltimore and Cleveland of the eastern division of the league. The others will be with the four other western division teams.

How they're to be divided between Milwaukee and City Stadium here remains to be determined. The Sept. 27 date with Cleveland is a special problem. This had been planned for the new $3,000,000 Milwaukee County Stadium. However, the Milwaukee Braves of the National Baseball League are from then on.

Packers Sign Star, Announce '53 Slate

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The Green Bay Packers of the National Football League today announced the signing of star pass catcher Isaac L. (Ike) Jones, west coast Negro.

At the same time the Packers announced a 1953 home schedule of six games to be divided between Milwaukee and Green Bay.

Jones, tenth rookie to be signed for 1953, was a star end and defensive halfback at the University of California at Los Angeles.

He set a UCLA record last year in catching nine passes in a game with California.

Academic Agency Cracking Down On College Athletics

The charge alleged that A&M stressed athletics "as a means for securing public support," and that it lacked faculty control of athletic policy and athletes were subsidized.

Bradley was said to be conducting an unsatisfactory athletic program and having educational weaknesses.

Further official elaboration in the cases of both schools was not given by the NCA.

The NCA is a 19-state group of 368 colleges and universities. Last year 90 per cent of membership voted for an athletic reform program.

Gov. Johnston Murray of Oklahoma, when he heard of the dis- accreditation, notified the NCA that "the whole state is shocked." He asked for a public hearing on the matter.

In the educational world, academic approval is vital to prestige. Loss of accreditation is one of the worst blows that can be landed. It would handicap enrollment potential as well as students or faculty members seeking transfer to accredited schools.

Dodger Pitching Staff Is Loaded With Power

By BEN PHLEGAR

AP Sportswriter

Last year the one thing the Brooklyn Dodgers lacked was good pitching. This spring they're wallowing in it.

In their last four games Brooklyn pitchers have put together 30 consecutive scoreless innings during which they yielded only 14 hits—amazing figures for a team that won the 1952 pennant by clubbing the opposition to death.

All the more impressive is the fact that more than half of these scoreless frames have come from rookies not even on the Brooklyn roster.

Rookies Started It

Glenn Mickens, a 22-year-old right-hander with less than two seasons of organized ball under his belt, started the string last Saturday as he shut out the Boston Red Sox in the final three innings of an 8-4 victory.

Carl Erskine, the No. 1 starter, shut out the Philadelphia Athletics on two scoreless hits as he went all the way on Monday.

Left-hander Johnny Podres, a 20-year-old from the Montreal Royals, mowed down Montreal for seven scoreless stanzas Tuesday and Ron Negray, who came up from St. Paul late last season, continued the goose eggs in the final two.

By The Associated Press

TODAY A YEAR AGO—Kansas defeated St. John's, 80-63, to win the basketball championship of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

FIVE YEARS AGO—The Detroit Red Wings whipped the New York Rangers, 5-2, to take a 2-0 lead in the first round of the Stanley Cup hockey playoffs.

TEN YEARS AGO—Greg Rice lowered his own record for the indoor two-mile event to 8:51 in the Knights of Columbus track meet at Cleveland.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Maurine Orcutt won the North and South Women's Golf Tournament.

William Jackowski, newest National League umpire, donned the mask for the first time professionally in 1946 in the Class D Blue Ridge League.

Yesterday it was Bob Milliken, just out of the Army, for six and relief ace Joe Black for three as the Dodgers edged the Milwaukee Braves, 1-0.

Minor Leagues

Mickens, Podres and Milliken still are minor league chattels and Mickens, regardless of his brilliant spring form, won't be available until at least May because he has to finish his two-year Army hitch. He used a furlough to go to training camp in an effort to land a Triple A job although his previous experience is limited to a season at Billings, Mont., (Class C) and seven games at Ft. Worth (Class AA).

Another fine pitching job yesterday came from veteran Jim Konstanty of the Philadelphia Phils. He blanked Detroit, 7-0, on seven hits as the Tigers fell before a National League team for the first time this spring.

Bob Porterfield and Julio Moreno of Washington shut out the Red Sox for 10 innings. The Senators won, 4-0. The first run in the 10th came on a wide throw by shortstop Johnny Lipon and later Ken Wood homered with two on base.

Cards Beat Yanks

The St. Louis Cardinals won their fifth game in 17 spring starts, 7-1, against the New York Yankees. The first two St. Louis runs came off Johnny Sain, who worked the opening six innings, but most of the blasting was against Ewell Blackwell.

Three runs in the eighth inning off Frank Hiller gave the Chicago White Sox a 6-3 verdict over the New York Giants.

The St. Louis Browns evened their spring series with the Chicago Cubs at 2-2 as Don Larsen and Virgil Trucks set the Cubs down, 4-1, at Tucson.

Minor league outfits mopped up on the Philadelphia Athletics and Cleveland Indians. The A's bowed, 8-3, to Baltimore of the International League and Cleveland lost, 6-2, to San Diego of the Pacific Coast circuit.

Tigers Lose 7 To 0, Weak At Bat, Field

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—A whitewashing from the Philadelphia Phillies looked bad on the Detroit Tigers' record today but it didn't say everything, by any means.

To the contrary, there were some good elements to the defeat—the pitching, for instance, of question-marks Ned Garver and Art Houtteman.

Manager Fred Hutchinson needs a few more good long looks at both righthanders but each now has shown enough to indicate a much improved status.

Atrocious Fielding

With the help of some atrocious Tiger fielding, Manager Steve O'Neill's Phillies squared their Grapefruit League record with Detroit at one victory each and a tie.

It was Detroit's first defeat in nine games against the senior circuit.

Sore-armers Garver and Houtteman shared the Tiger pitching, giving up only six hits.

Three of the blows were home runs, however, and this, coupled with three Detroit errors and former Reliever Jim Konstanty's top-grade pitching for Philadelphia, made it a cinch for the Phils.

The Tigers were idle today in the Grapefruit League. Tomorrow they move over to St. Petersburg to play the New York Yankees, to whom they previously suffered one of their four spring losses. Their record is now 9-4.

Weak At Plate

Detroit, held to seven scattered hits by Konstanty, could do nothing with the Phils. The Tigers hit into five double plays to kill what few chances they had.

Garver, working easily, looked good despite home runs of him in the fourth by Gram Hammer and Stan Lopata. He didn't show any sign of arm trouble. He gave five hits in six innings and walked two men.

The sixth Phil hit was the only blow off Houtteman in four frames. It was a homer by Del Ennis in the eighth. Art walked three. The other run off him was unearned. It was his first appearance of the season.

Had Homer Mark

After starting to build a reputation by hitting 18 homers in nine games, the Tigers folded. Their only hit to go out of the infield was a single by Walt Dropo in the eighth.

Both Hammer and Lopata banged their homers off Garver with the bases empty.

The Phils scored three runs in the second, but they couldn't be charged to Garver. Two errors by Rookie Johnny Baumgartner, third baseman, were largely responsible. He muffed a grounder and threw wild on another play.

Shortstop Fred Hatfield's wild throw figured in the seventh Phil run, scored off Houtteman in the eighth.

Poor Little Hill!

You're looking at a very discouraged hill!

Ever since that ribbon of paving outlined it, it has been a challenge to motor cars.

For miles and miles it winds up the side of a mountain; and it has sharp curves, and steep grades that spring out of the curves so a driver can't get a start.

Half-way up, there's a watering place—put there so drivers can stop and refill their radiators.

Yes—it has been quite a hill. But not any more!

The driver of the car in the picture above took off at the base and sailed right up to the top—and never gave it a thought.

You see, he's driving a 1953 Cadillac—with its great high compression 210-horsepower engine—and its vastly improved Hydra-Matic Drive.

We heard recently of two men who drove from Florida to Detroit—in a 1953 Cadillac.

Martin Durkin Family Is A Close Corporation

MRS. MARTIN DURKIN: "All those soft drinks he put away . . ."

By PATTI SIMMONS
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — It isn't so strange that tee-totaler and Secretary of Labor Martin P. Durkin should have married the saloon keeper's daughter. For Ann Durkin's father, Barney McNicholas, was a pretty special saloon keeper.

Barney reigned over the most respectable saloon on Chicago's South Side, thanks to strict house rules from which he wavered, not once. Irishman McNicholas was never known to serve a man more than the amount of drink that was good for him, didn't allow a woman in the place, and closed up promptly every night at 11:45.

Young Marty Durkin got no blame whatever when he bearded Barney McNicholas for permission to keep steady company with his pretty daughter. Barney probably had heard about Martin's reputation. Mrs. Durkin smiles now. "All the boys in the neighborhood used to ask him how he could still stand up at the bar after all the soft drinks he had away."

Brown-eyed and petite Ann Durkin talks about girlhood days in a soft, pleasing voice with only the barest suggestion of a brogue. Although a mother and grandmother herself, she has no trouble recalling the happy and close-knit family life in the apartment over the saloon where her father brought up his brood of five. "It was probably because mother died when we were so young," she recalls, "that Dad was so strict about our upbringing."

Likewise today, the Durkins are a pretty close corporation. Their two married sons and families, plus school son Jack, 19, wouldn't think of missing Saturday night dinner party.
